Cost and Payment: Lessons are 50.00 per hour USD [US Dollar] and are either 1 or 2 hours per session. The session time is up to the student. Based on past experience, 2 hours happens to be perfect because I will be learning from you and vice versa; both our brains will be fatigued at that time. Nevertheless, 1 hour is also suitable. I enjoy tutoring because I also learn from students.

Payment: Please send full payment prior to lesson start so I know you are serious about the lesson.

Please send by using PayPal to the email address shaunfriedman@gmail.com

What day and time are you available for the lesson?

What version of FL Studio do you have?

What type of music do you generally create? How long have you been at it?

What do you want to learn and get better at?

Who are your favorite artists?

FL Studio Cookbook: The book I authored titled FL Studio Cookbook is available on Amazon and is 40.99 [paperback] and 20.44 [Kindle]. I understand that depending on a student's needs, private lessons are needed. I simply want to make it known that most of what we discuss will also be included in the FL Studio Cookbook. Regardless, the book can also be used as a guide in addition to lessons if needed.

[Bonus] What you will receive after completion of lesson: Tips and Tricks on mixing techniques in relation to Equalization, Compression, Limiting, Delay, Reverb & a chart regarding frequencies.
